Overflow crowd attends marathon hearing Monday

It was after midnight and some four hours after the public hearing had been opened on Monday night when Mayor Ralph Doetsch cast the "swing vote" that resulted in the approval by the City Council of the controversial site plan presented for the 31-acre Amato property between Campbell and Latimer avenues just east of the San Tomas Expressway.

A feature of the public hearing, during which opponents and proponents had their say, was a presentation to the Council of a petition containing 1597 names of local residents protesting the proposed development.

By a 3-2 vote, with Councilmen Ed Rogers and Bill Podgorsek opposing and Councilmen Dean Chamberlin and Bill Smeed voting with Doetsch, the City Council gave the green light to Dura Style Homes to proceed with the town house development with "attached" and "detached" units.

But before the vote was taken, many members of the overflow crowd in the council chambers had taken the mike to express their views on the issue, often in a dramatic and emotional manner.

OPPOSITION

Opposition to the proposal of Dura Style Homes has stemmed from residents in the areas immediately adjacent to the 31-acre parcel. They have argued that the present R-1 (single family) zoning should not be changed because the property is surrounded on three sides by well-established R-1 neighborhoods on 6000 square-foot minimum lots.

They have also maintained the density of 7.5 units per acre as proposed by Dura Style is higher than the 5-unit density in the neighborhoods. They also have claimed that traffic congestion would be created.

To emphasize that other residents of single-family homes in Campbell are also concerned over the proposed development cutting into the fast-disappearing R-1 areas, the petition was presented to the City Council containing 1597 names, asking that the Council deny the application.

SPOKESMAN

Bob Sneed, of 241 Victor, spokesman for the protesting residents, was anchor man at the hearing and emphasized that the petitions had been circulated throughout the city to only residents of single-family units.

Sneed, in his wind-up talk, posted a map on the wall showing where the petition signers lived via colored dots. He suggested that there were 700 such dots obtained during the 2½-weeks that the petitions had been circulated.

"We have been called a pressure group," Sneed emphasized, "but our pressure is to inform the city government of how pitifully small the R-1 zones are in the city."

POLL TAKEN

Another highlight of Sneed's presentation was when he requested Mayor Doetsch to "poll" the crowd.

Mayor Doetsch then asked those opposed to the development to raise their hands. The "official" count showed 94 hands in the air. Only 16 raised their hands in favor of the plan.

Prior to the opening of the hearing, Art Kee, planning director, reviewed the issue, pointing out that the Planning Commission, after holding a public hearing, had approved the site plan by a 5-2 vote.

Kee explained that the favorable vote came after Dura Style Homes had modified the original plan by adding more "detached" or single-family units on the two streets (Hunt Court and Darryl Court) that were closest to the single-family homes in adjacent areas. Kee said that the majority of the planning commissioners had indicated by their vote that they felt the proposal followed the city's general plan quite closely.

It was also explained that in the "town house" approach, each unit has its own patio and is under individual ownership. However it could not be called "R-1" because it was of a higher density.

Annual installation of Chamber of Commerce officers takes place at banquet this Friday

New officers of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce will be installed by Municipal Judge Edgar P. Taylor, of the Los Gatos-Campbell-Saratoga court, this Friday, Jan. 14, at the annual banquet at the Villa Felice.

The annual citizen-of-the-year award will also be revealed at the banquet which will be M-Ceed by Bill Deal, community service coordinator at West Valley College and "retiring" CofC director.

The citizen-of-the-year award is traditionally kept secret until the annual banquet with only the committee knowing the recipient of the coveted honor. The Rev. W. H. (Ben) Gould, winner of the award for 1969, will make the presentation.

Neal Royer, former local school superintendent and now with the school system in Atascadero, Calif., was the winner last year.

Al LaPlante, of New York Life, who served as first vice-president of the CofC last year, will take office as president succeeding Norm Paul, who handled the gavel during 1971.

Ed Fabbri, of the Bank of America, is the new first vice-president and Allan Blaine, of Aero Pharmacy and a former president of the Campbell JayCees, will be installed as second vice-president.

Newly-elected director, Phil Olavarri, of Kilroy Pest Control, will be the CofC's new treasurer.

Other new directors who will be installed by Judge Taylor on Friday include, the Rev. Leonard Bose, of St. Lucy's; John Copper, of IBM, card plant; Gordon Criag, of United California Bank; Bob Peck, Campbell High principal and Jack Reilly, of Red Carpet Advertising.

Hold-over directors are: Jim Baker, attorney; Dale Pedersen, Stevens Fabrics; Bob Cowan, Wells Fargo; Lowell Grattan, developer; Bob Tellesen, United Rent-All and Ira Kirkorian, developer.

Mrs. Jeanette Watson is chairman of the annual CofC event. Social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. with the dinner set for 7:30 p.m.

Reservations should be made in advance at the CofC office (378-6252). Tickets are $7.50 per person.

JayCees seek nominations for outstanding young man

For the fifth consecutive year, Campbell JayCees are seeking nominations for the outstanding young man of the year.

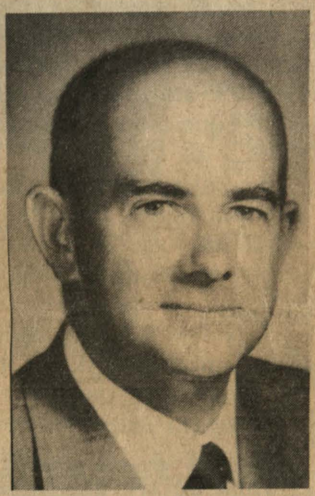
According to Ronald H. Whitcanack, co-chairman of the selection committee, the JayCees will present the Distinguished Service Award of 1971 at a banquet in his honor on Saturday, January 22 at Zorba's.

Nominations will be accepted until January 15. Nominee should be between the ages of 21 and 35, reside, work or be active in community service in the City of Campbell.

Judging will be made on the basis of contribution to general community welfare during 1971; evidence of outstanding leadership ability, and evidence of personal or business progress.

Winner of last year's award was Jack Christian of the Campbell Fire Department. Previous year's winners include Carl Kuhn, former city administrative assistant; Dale Scott, present chairman of the Campbell Planning Commission and Bob Dalzell, now of Santa Maria.

Master of ceremonies for the dinner will be Fred LaCosse of KNTV. Guest speaker will be Norman Mineta, mayor of San Jose.



NEW CONTRACT—James P. Hardy, superintendent-president of West Valley College, has received a new four-year contract and a 5.5% increase in salary from the board of trustees. The contract becomes effective Feb. 1 and the increase boosts Hardy's annual salary from $29,500 to $31,122.50.

Hardy was commended by Robert Sorensen, board chairman, for the "intangible but valuable leadership you have brought to the college."

Hardy succeeded Dr. Wallace Hall as superintendent-president on March 19, 1970.

STUDENTS TO ATTEND

Commission to hold hearing Monday afternoon on "loop"

Students of Campbell High may see local history in the making next Monday, Jan. 17, at 2 p.m. when the Planning Commission holds a public hearing on the possible setting of a plan line for a south loop street through the heart of the "downtown" business district.

The unique afternoon session was scheduled to allow Campbell High juniors and seniors in the U.S. History and Government classes to attend. The Commission meets regularly on the first and third Mondays at 7:30 p.m.

Chuck Edmonds, chairman of Social Sciences at Campbell High, expects that approximately 20 students will take advantage of the opportunity to observe local government in operation. He said those students who attend the hearing will be released from sixth period classes. Class credit may be given, Edmonds said.

The "concept" of the loop system, i.e., having north and south loop streets taking off at Campbell Ave. at Third St. and then swinging back to the main thoroughfare, has been adopted by the city.

However, only the plan line for the north loop has been established. The new street that extends from Central to First on the south side of the new city hall is the first portion of the north loop to be constructed.

The public works department at Monday's hearing is expected to explain the route that the south loop will traverse and what properties that may be affected.

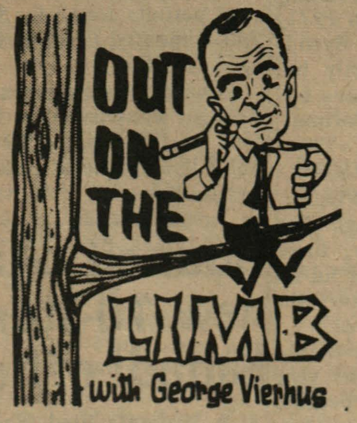
Board meets this Thursday

Latest developments in the campaign to approve the 50-cent tax increase at the Feb. 29 election in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District are expected to be revealed at the school board meeting this Thursday, Jan. 14, in the district administration building.

Other items on the agenda will be a report by Fred Peterson, administrative assistant, on the school-City of Campbell joint park program and a report by Jim D'Avis on status of the interim position in the business department.

D'Avis has been directed by the board to take steps to employ an aide in the business department who possibly may be qualified to assume the position of business manager.

C.E. Bradley has announced plans to retire.



IT APPARENTLY WOULD not have taken much more of a push to have had a "look-ma-no-hands" situation for the clock tower at the city hall after the recent big wind.

It seems that a gusty blast caught one of the metal hands just right. The force of the big blow bent the hand off the face of the clock at about a 45-degree angle.

Having one hand sticking out in that fashion obviously gave the clock an odd look. It also made it difficult for the clock to perform its basic function, i.e., keeping time in a reasonably correct manner.

One might say the clock was sort of spinning its wheels.

The sign company people straightened out the hand with little difficulty and we understand that they seem to think they have a way figured out to prevent any recurrence of a similar nature.

That's important.

After all, another big wind at the city hall is always a distinct possibility.

-0-

IT WAS THE ELEMENTS, over which there is not too much control, that bent the hand of the city hall clock. But it had to be a person that recently did another bit of minor damage at the city hall.

Some party with a warped sense of values, recently removed the letter "C" from the sign "Police" near the ramp on the First Street side of the city hall.

The letters in the sign are bronze and quite expensive, relatively speaking. They are screwed into the wall. But that didn't deter the character who removed the "C".

Admittedly we probably get overly incensed when we see examples of malicious damage done to public property.

We know we shouldn't let it bother us so much, because it is so common.

But incidents of vandalism and wanton destruction or defacing of property really drive us up the wall.

But we suppose we are not as upset over the case of the missing "C" from the police sign at the city hall as we have been in some other vandalism cases we could mention.

We are not in any way condoning the removal of the "C" from "police", but there was no defacing involved, which is something.

We will look around for a black, bronze "C" to crop up somewhere.

As a taxpayer we happen to have a substantial $$ interest in Campbell's $1 million city hall.

We imagine the Campbell police will be looking around too.

THERE HAS BEEN STATIC from some quarters that when we use "tower" to describe the structure on which the four-faced clock rests in front of the city hall, we are stretching things a bit in view of the other "towers" that are around.

The critics claim that a city hall clock "tower" to those who are not in the know, should mean that the clock was in some lofty building that towered above the landscape.

The city hall clock tower, of course, really does not "tower".

That really is not important. The height is incidental.

It must be remembered that the city hall clock tower will always be tangible evidence of community participation of an outstanding nature.

It owes its existence to the fact that individuals and organizations cooperated in putting up the dough that was necessary for its construction.

There is very little, if any, "tax money" involved.

Incidentally, we would be even more irate than we were over the missing "C" in the police sign, if some character

Editorial

Tax election

In last week's editorial, we called attention to the tax election for the Campbell Union (elementary) School District scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 29.

The electorate of the district will be asked to approve an increase of 50-cents in the current tax rate of the district which is now $2.55 per $100 assessed valuation.

The increase to $3.05 would be for a three-year period.

We added that, should the voters in the district turn down the increase, the tax rate for the district would revert to $1.80 per $100 assessed valuation on June 30, 1972.

It has been suggested by a number of people that such a statement is somewhat incomplete. The editorial did not point out that, should the increase fail to receive a favorable majority of the votes at the polls on Feb. 29, it would still be possible to come to the voters again before June 30, 1972 with the proposal that the current tax rate of $2.55 be continued.

The tax election committee recommended that an increase be presented for the voters approval because it was felt that the current tax rate of $2.55 would not provide adequate funding for needed educational programs in the district.

The committee also submitted that, if the tax rate reverted to $1.80, the district would lose approximately $1.5 million in income, necessitating many drastic reductions both in personnel and educational programs.

The Press is not in a position to verify what specific curtailments would be necessary, if the tax rate dropped to $1.80, or how much the district income would decrease.

But it does seem logical to assume that undoubtedly some drastic economy measures would have to be instituted which could have an adverse effect on the district. We assume, of course, that the current tax rate does not now allow for any "cushion."

Thus, we agree that it is important to know that should the voters disapprove the 50-cent tax hike on Feb. 29, another election can be held before June 30 on the question of maintaining the present rate.

Presenting such questions to the voters emphasizes how extremely important it is to have confidence in those who are in positions of authority and responsibility in the district.

Very few individuals in the school district are familiar enough with the district's fiscal conditions to come up with the correct answers for the financial needs of the district.

Thus we are dependent on "experts" for such information and conclusions or on special groups like the tax election committee.

Therefore, it is of the utmost importance that the credibility of the people in positions of trust should be unquestioned.

We recognize that it is possible for citizen groups to thoroughly investigate all aspects of the situation and come to a conclusion based on the facts that they have examined.

We submit, however, that school district financing has now become so complicated that the average layman will flounder in the maze of figures.

We note that the Campbell Elementary Teachers Association has now endorsed the 50-cent tax increase election for Feb. 29.

The CETA statement reveals that endorsement had been withheld until a written clarification was received from the school board specifying that it was the board's intent to continue existing levels of educational programs in the district.

The CETA claims that the 50-cent tax rate will barely provide for the continuation of existing programs and there will be a slight chance for some minor improvements.

The CETA statement further adds: "...but the burden placed upon the taxpayer must be taken into consideration..."

That's a very commendable attitude on the part of the CETA. All of us in the district share that concern.

We appreciate that the teachers' group has studied the situation and has come to a conclusion.

But we think it is only fair to emphasize that it is a conclusion of just one segment of the district.

molested the clock tower.

They could cause us to go into a TOWERing rage.

-0-

SPEAKING OF TOWERS ---we just thought it interesting that Fred Sahadi, in seeking approval of a 10-story office building at the PruneYard in front of the 18-story "Towers", refers to his new project as "Towers II." (Obviously, he was not referring to the city hall clock tower as "Tower I".)

In one comment Fred submits: "A careful analysis will indicate that the parking provided for Towers II is better, if that is possible, than the parking provided for Towers I, which parking has proven to be far in excess of actual parking requirements"...

Fred also adds: "With the investment that myself and my joint venturer will have in Campbell and in the Towers I and II development, please be assured that we are as interested, if not more interested, in providing adequate parking to maintain the integrity and value of both buildings over a period of time."....

And then there is still another "tower" in town.

At Campbell's main fire station on Sunnyoaks, there is a three-story training tower.

It seems that the only elevation our community can get is through towers.

Some time ago, it was submitted that Campbell had the distinction of being the only city in Santa Clara County in which there wasn't some sort of a hill.

Everything seems to be on the level in Campbell.

THIS HAS NOTHING TO do with anything in particular but the first sentence in a recent news release concerning milk consumption intrigued us.

"Direct pipelines carrying milk into every kitchen could be the home delivery method of the future."

It seems that California dairymen are concerned over the declining per capita consumption of dairy products and milk over the past 14 years.

And, as a sort of related concern, the dairymen believe that this decline means people are not getting the nutritional requirements necessary every day which milk can provide.

It is hard for us to visualize a milk pipeline into every kitchen. That's a little much.

From what we can gather, even if there was such a pipeline, it would be necessary to have spigots anyway to separate the non-fat, slim etc., from the real thing.

The surprising thing to us was to learn that the per capita consumption of fluid milk dropped from 126.03 quarts in 1960 to 113.72 in 1970 in California.

Averaged out this means Californians are now drinking slightly more than a glass of milk each day. (Dairymen think that to fulfill nutritional requirements, three glasses of milk a day is the optimo.)

-0-

AS A LOVER OF MILK for as long as we can remember, it is difficult for us to realize that the consumption has fallen off that much during the past years.

But there was an encouraging note.

It seems that in most of the past 14 years, per capita consumption in California has dropped one to three per cent annually. But in 1971, the per capita figure is expected to remain close to even with 1970.

The promotion campaign that was instituted last year emphasizing the theme that "Every Body Needs Milk" is credited with offsetting some of the decline.

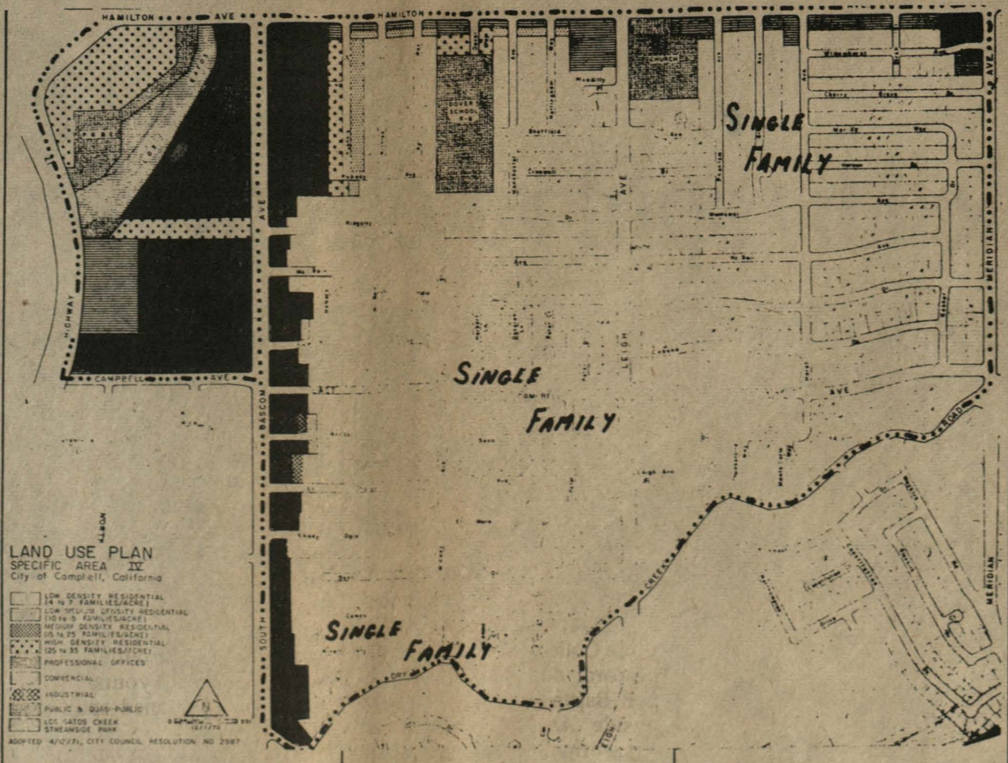
Still it doesn't seem necessary that a promotional campaign had to be utilized.

Going back into the deep, dark past, we recall that returning from overseas in World War II, there were two main treats offered us as we came off the boat.

(1) All the steak one could eat and (2) all the milk one could drink.

Both items appeared to be equally popular with the returning GI's.

So it is sort of sad to learn that our favorite beverage, after all these years, has now lost favor with the drinking public.



HEARING TONIGHT AT DOVER SCHOOL--The Planning Commission will hold the third of a series of hearings related to Campbell's General Plan at Dover School on Dover Way this evening (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m. to review the general plan as it applies to the Dover area, an area that lies to the east of Highway 17 and south of Hamilton Ave. The eastern boundary is Meridian Ave. and the southern boundary is Dry Creek Road.

The area has two distinct sections, one involving that sector north of Campbell Ave., east of Highway 17 to Bascom and south of Hamilton, which is largely commercial (PruneYard, etc.) and high density residential.

The other part lies east of Bascom and is 83% low density residential. Available data indicates that very little change is anticipated in the future.

The Planning Commission will hold the fourth such General Plan hearing at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday, January 25, at Rosemary School on Hamilton Ave. when the general plan applying to that area will be reviewed.

The purpose of the public hearings is to provide and receive information concerning elements of the General Plan and to consider updating the plan after a review has taken place.

CHAIRMAN--CHARLES A. Quinn, representing the third district on the Board of Supervisors, has been elected chairman for 1972. He succeeds Supervisor Dominic Cortese. Quinn has been a supervisor since 1965 when he succeeded the late Ed R. Levin. He was elected to a full four-year term in 1968 and will be a candidate for reelection this year. The third district includes Sunnyvale, Milpitas, northeast San Jose and the Alviso and Agnew areas.

"SINCE YOUR FATHER HAS JOINED THE CONSERVATION COMMITTEE, HE PREFERS TO BE CALLED DEFOLIATED, NOT BALD"

C-M Pony League signups take place Saturday, Jan. 22

The first crack of the bat may be months away, but Campbell-Moreland Pony League gets the season off and running this month with signups.

All 13 and 14 year old boys, both newcomers and those who played last season, must register Saturday morning, January 22, at Rosemary School, 401 W. Hamilton Ave.

Rich Barry, newly elected president, announced that all boys, along with at least one of their parents, be present at 10 a.m., at which time plans for the new season will be outlined.

He also reminds the youngsters that they are required to bring certification of their birth date and a registration fee of $15.

Besides Barry, Campbell's new officers include Ray Knight, vice-president; Dick Brostrom, secretary, and John Adams, treasurer. The board of directors consists also of John Bojorquez, Alan Codiroli, Rudy Delgado, Gene Colburn and Bud Stallings.

BEAUTIFICATION

The Campbell Citizens for Beautification will meet on Thursday, Jan. 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the City Council Chambers to discuss agenda items for the upcoming joint session of the City Council and Advisory Commissions and Beautification Committee.

The joint session is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 31 at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chambers.

CANCELLATION

Jessica Mitford, British authoress, has cancelled her appearance at West Valley College originally scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 13 at 8 p.m.

The college plans to reschedule her for its 1972 fall lecture series if possible.

Building permits set new high record here for 1971

Despite a downward trend in the last few months of the year, a new high record was set in the issuance of building permits in Campbell in 1971, according to Wally Byron, building official, chiefly because of the tremendous upsurge in the building of multiples.

During the year, $18,439,839.20 in permits were issued, far more than any single year in the city's history, three times that of 1970 or an increase of $12.3 million over the previous 12 months.

December was one of the poorest months of the year with only $60,618 in permits as compared to December, 1970, when $194,422 in permits were issued.

During 1970, there were seven permits issued for multiples for $2,248,057 while in 1971 there were 107 permits for $13,547,770.

And in 1971, for the first time in three years, building permits were issued for single-family dwellings. In 1971 there were nine such permits for $174,388.20 compared to none in 1970.

Another big increase was registered in the category of miscellaneous or "other" permits. In 1970, there were nine such permits for $5,468 while in 1971 there were 40 for $248,533.

The variation in the other types of permits in the two years was relatively minor.

In 1970, there were 25 commercial building permits issued for $2,517,689 while in 1971 there were 25 permits for $2,682,431.

In 1970, there were 11 industrial permits for $642,410 while in 1971 there were 17 such permits for $993,414.

There were 121 permits for alterations and additions issued in 1970 for $512,076 and in 1971 there were 103 permits but for $568,758.

In 1970 24 permits for demolition for $2700 and in 1971 there were 44 permits of that type for $18,300.

There was an increase in the building of swimming pools in 1971 over that of 1970. In 1970 there were 25 pool permits issued for $83,490 compared to 44 in 1971 for $129,280.

And there were more permits for signs issued in 1971 than in 1970, 41 to 79 and $36,825 in value as opposed to $76,965.

Council okays new 10-story Sahadi office

A patient Fred Sahadi, developer of the PruneYard-Towers, waited until 1 a.m. Tuesday for the City Council to approve the plans for a 10-story office building that will be located in front of the 18-story "Towers".

Prior to approving the plans for the building and the zone change that is necessary because of height restrictions, the City Council was involved in a public hearing over the site plan for the Amato property that lasted more than four hours.

In other actions in the wee hours of the morning (the Council did not adjourn until 2:45 a.m.), the Council approved a maintenance contract for the heating and cooling systems at the city hall and adopted a resolution setting the municipal election for Tuesday, April 11.

The electorate will vote for three councilmen and also on the question of whether the office of city treasurer should be appointive instead of elective as it is now.

Vice-Mayor Bill Podgorsek and Councilmen Bill Smeed were named by Mayor Ralph Doetsch as a screening committee to select the independent auditing firm for the city.

The Council also approved an agreement with the state for metering traffic at Hamilton and Highway 17.

SHARON PARKER

TIFFANY & DAVID SCOTT PARKER

A wood and coal burning pot-belly stove was the apparent cause of a blaze which claimed the lives of three former San Jose residents.

Dead from the fire which gutted their Nevada home near Herlong, north of Reno, are Sharon Parker, 26 and two of her children, David Scott, five and Tiffany, six.

Survivors include her husband, David Ralph, who is in good condition at a San Jose Hospital, and their one and a half year old daughter, Kendra.

Young David died in the fire Dec. 31, while Tiffany died New Year's Day and Mrs. Parker died last Wednesday, both at Washoe Medical Center in Reno.

Funeral services for the three were held Thursday at the Campbell Memorial Chapel, who are survived by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fischer of Campbell, the young mother's parents, and Joanne Marie, Gary Lee, Carol, G. Craig, Carter and Deneille Fischer, all of Campbell, her brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Parker was the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antone A. Fischer and Mrs. Roy Camp, all of Spokane Washington. Tiffany and David are also survived by their paternal grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle Jones of San Jose.

The Parkers lived at 306 Henderson Dr. until last July and were both graduates of Campbell High School.

THOMAS G. SPANO

A Mass of the Resurrection was held recently at St. Lucy's for 69 year old Thomas G. Spano, a longtime resident of Campbell, who lived at 1481 Sheffield Ave.

The former cement mason and bricklayer, who was the father of Salvatore R. Spano, San Jose attorney, died Friday, Jan. 7 in a San Jose hospital after a brief illness.

Spano, who came to the United States from Italy in 1934, lived in New York City until he came to Campbell some 20 years ago.

Four years ago Spano retired from hiw work as cemen tired from his work as cement mason and bricklayer for Gipetti Bros. Earlier, he worked for Hallmark Homes.

Spano's attorney son is a member of the Spano, Haumesser and Taranto law firm.

Other survivors of the native Italian include his wife, Josephine; a daughter, Mrs. Rina M. Holman of San Jose; two sisters, Mrs. Antoinette Scavuzzo of Santa Clara and Mrs. Agatha Monticiolo of Italy and four grandchildren.

Rosary services were held at Lima, Salmon and Erickson's Cathedral Chapel. Entombment was in Oak Hill Memorial Park.

WILLIAM ENGLAND

Services were conducted yesterday for William E. England, 39, a bartender for Ken's House of Pancakes, and a long-time friend of major league baseball stars.

England, who resided at 1220 Peggy Ave., died in a Los Gatos hospital after a short illness. He had lived in the county for the past 17 years, but had once resided in San Francisco and had been a close friend of Willie Mays, Juan Marichal and Jose Pagan.

He is survived by his wife Shirley and his children, Randy Manley of Idaho, David, Steven, Dennis, Marty, Robin and Sherry England of Campbell and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Dege of San Francisco.

A brother, Robert England, and a sister, Mrs. Sherry Mareno, reside in San Francisco.

Campbell Memorial Chapel was in charge of funeral services, followed by burial at Golden Gate National Cemetery at San Bruno.

FRED H. STEPHENS

Fred H. Stephens, 77, former resident of Campbell, died last week in a Los Gatos hospital.

Stephens, who for many years resided on Winchester Blvd. near where the San Tomas overpass now stands, was a self-employed school photographer before his retirement.

In recent years, Stephens, with his wife, Jane, had resided at 1921 Margot Place, San Jose.

In addition to his wife, he leaves two sons, Richard, of San Diego and Robert, of San Francisco, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted by Oak Hill Mortuary, with inurnment at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

EDMOND MENDONSA

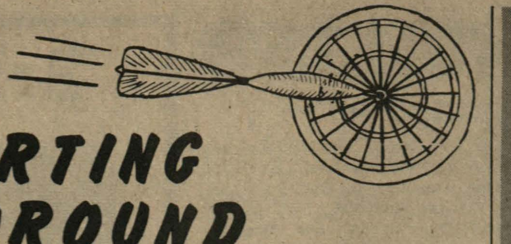
Edmond Mendonsa, 56, of 3068 David Ave., died January 3, after a brief illness.

A native of Santa Cruz, Mendonsa lived here 52 years and was a graduate of Campbell Elementary and High Schools.

Before his death he was employed by Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

He leaves his wife, Azile, a brother, Anthony Mendonsa, and a sister, Mrs. Anamae Pereira, both of San Jose.

Funeral services were conducted in San Jose, with a requiem mass at St. Lucy's Church. Interment was in Santa Clara Catholic cemetery.



DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

For the first time in its history, the Southern California Darts Assn. has retired its "A" division trophy. This happened when the Carriage Trade's Men won the championship for their third consecutive season. Competition went down to the wire as they ended the season in a 10-10 tie including the league playoff game with Mother's of Laguna Beach.

Southern-Cal plays a little differently than we do; their matches are four 501 doubles games and a 1001 team game. At the end of the four doubles the match was tied 2-2, but the Carriage Trade's Men came through with the win.

This was the fourth time that a team had tried for its third leg on the trophy. In 1964, O'Donnell's had a shot at it but went down in defeat to the Cockneys.

In the fall of 1968 the Jokers were the Villians who thwarted the efforts of the Surf. The following year the Carriage Trade's Men put the damper on the Jokers. This time the "Trade" carried it off.

The final game was won when the Mighty Joe Young hit the double one.

TEAM GAMES

A lot of players forget that the team game is as important as the singles game figuring that we play 10 singles and only two team games each Wednesday. But look at what happened in Southern California. The Carriage Trade's Men won all 14 team games in the spring of 1971. The season ended at Mother's in Laguna with the Lagunans needing the final game to force a play-off.

The "Trade" won and took the championship by two games.

This past season, the "Trade" lost only one team game and that one to Mother's in the tenth week. In the past week of the season, the "Trade" blew a one game lead to Mother's and being down three games to one, needed the team game to force a playoff. Then they won the championship by a team game.

Last Wednesday saw a well fought team game at the Black Watch with the "Banshee's" (Primrose I). The Watch got away first and both teams came down evenly.

Four tons (100's) were shot between the two teams. The Banshee's hit the winning double on the 61st dart, but the Watch had had its shot at the double on their 62nd dart.

LEAGUE STANDINGS

Scarlet La Rue lengthened their lead over Lancashire Lad I in the South Bay League "A" division when they defeated the Lad, 8 to 4. In the El Camino league the Prince of Wales I maintained a four game lead over the Black Knight when both teams lost their matches, 7 to 5.

In the "B" division, Banbury Clock II still holds a two game lead over the "Goof-Offs" (Lancashire Lad III) in the El Camino League. Both teams won 8 to 4. Primrose Lanes II moved another game ahead in the South Bay League. They are now 13 games ahead of the "Reruns" (Gaslighter Theater II).

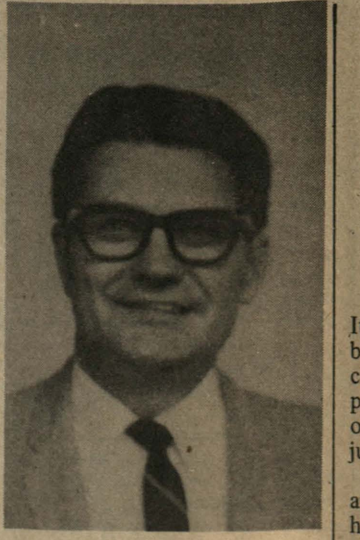
SYMPHONY

The West Valley College Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Cesare Claudio, will present a free concert on Thursday, Jan. 20 at 8 p.m. in the Campbell campus auditorium, Winchester and Campbell Avenues.

Jan Novak, violinist, will be featured as guest artist in the Bach Concerto No. 2 in E Major and works by Rossini, Bizet and Rimsky-Korsakov will also be played.

FIRST TO.....

In 1957, the U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Spar became the first vessel to circumnavigate the North American Continent.



ASSUMING NEW PASTORATE---Reverend Loren Brown, a graduate of Western Baptist Bible College, has assumed the pastoral duties of the Campbell Baptist Church, 151 Sunnyside Ave., Campbell. He has worked with the Mountain Mission in western Virginia and has pastored churches in Ohio and California, most recently Merced. The family of the Baptist cleric includes his wife, Donna, and four children, two high school age, one junior high, and one attending a Bible college in Salem, Oregon. The Browns are making their home on Holmes Ave., Campbell.

A for your thoughts

By Edith Bonnet

GENERATION GAP?

I don't believe there is one. It's a communication gap to be sure---people (myself included) are good talkers, but poor listeners. Being a born optimist, the generation gap just never existed for me.

My un-college education and my un-college diploma have been earned through people both older and younger than myself.

They gave of themselves in so many ways---time, energy, conversation, listening. And when I was very young by the good old-fashioned spoil-the-child method.

In between talking, which my husband says seldom stops, except in my sleep, I must have listened somewhere along the line because other people taught me so much.

Most of these people were older than myself. We lived in a neighborhood where there were few young couples and I was the baby of the family. Many of my childhood friends were, of necessity, adults.

One favorite friend lived next door to us. He was childless, but loved children. There we spent many happy hours, his wife, himself, and the little nuisance from next door, under "our" thinking tree.

What kind of a tree it was, I don't even remember, but the conversations we had, and the good times we shared, I shall never forget.

My friend is gone now, but he's still my friend. And I'm sure he would agree there isn't any generation gap!

MORE IRONY

The Supreme Court, a few years ago, amid great controversy, ruled to outlaw prayers in schools. Now Congress has turned down an amendment to make non-denominational voluntary prayers legal. I never have understood how prayer could be governed by "law" anyway. Wonder what they do to students heard uttering, "Dear God, what a bear of a test this is!"

WOMEN'S LIB AD INFINITUM

The Women's Liberation Movement, while merely passing within listening distance of most of us, has raised some interesting questions to ponder.

Why, for instance, do men, children, and babies look perfectly beautiful with clean freshly scrubbed skin, while we women labor under two pounds of camouflage? Women's libs are shedding make-up including lipstick.

The question they raise seems sane enough, and yet---well, guess I'm more of a follower than a leader. I'll wait and see what everyone else looks like without all the gilt. Meanwhile the beauty magazines roll right on along showing us how to be ever more glamourous and beautiful, dollar by dollar.

A TOUCH OF THE LIGHT

If we worked as hard on the inside of us as we seem to work on the outside, we would be beautiful indeed.

Campbell Capers

by Jeanie Harris and Doreen Henner

Campbell student elections were held last Thursday to decide the new student body president and student councilmen. Student body president is Liz Taylor and councilmen are Mo Caudillo and Bill Young.

The Campbell Bucs had their first league basketball game on Friday, January 7, against Del Mar. During the first half the score remained close. High point men were John Parisi, with 15 points and Dave Bush with 11.

Del Mar was hot at the free throw line, where they racked up many of their points. Campbell made a comeback attempt in the fourth quarter but lost in the last four minutes. John Parisi made a spectacular half court shot in the second half, but the Bucs lost with a score of 58-46.

Campbell's Frosh-Soph and Varsity basketball teams will be up against the Camden Cougars on Friday, January 14, at 7 p.m. on the Cougars' court.

Campbell's Varsity wrestling team won their meet against Del Mar with a score of 34-22. Tim Wheeler, Dan Donecho and John Lobue each pinned their opponent.

Bringing up fido

By Sally Howe

There are as many schools of thought on "puppy raising" as there are puppies.

"Don't feed meat--it gives worms."

"Don't give them anything but meat--they need protein."

"Punish them with a rolled-up newspaper."

"Teach them to use a newspaper as their toilet."

Obviously, some of these theories conflict and the owner of a new puppy finds himself at a loss for direction.

So, for what it's worth, Fido will share some of his philosophy.

THE INTRODUCTION

When a new puppy arrives at your home, he's frightened or excited or both. In any case, the usual reaction is a puddle on the floor. This is to be expected and should be ignored.

Decide on what boundaries the puppy is to have and immediatly make necessary barriers to keep him confined to acceptable areas.

Discuss the possible damage he could do, so no one is heartbroken when they lose their favorite, toy, scarf or pipe.

DIET

A puppy needs to eat often. Recommended are four meals per day, but three are usually sufficient.

Eliminate milk and kibbles which are mixed with milk. This is a frequent cause of diarrhea. Cottage cheese and yogurt are excellent, but especially if you are dealing with a large breed, don't start giving him these as a full meal --unless you own the dairy!

A few tablespoons of either, mixed with a good grade of BAKED kibble, is good for one meal. A puppy CAN have meat and a tablespoon can be added to another meal. A puppy should have all he can clean up in a few minutes, but no dog should have food available all the time.

HOUSEBREAKING

"Stick their nose in it" was one of the most disgusting and degrading practices ever evolved. What it was supposed to accomplish has never been explained.

"Accidents" are caused by people--not by dogs. They want to be clean--if they are given a chance will never soil any area near their bed.

But, when a puppy wakes up from a nap; when he eats a big meal, when he has played hard--he usually reacts by having to "go."

A puppy usually "warns" that he has to go--he circles, sniffs, or disappears.

And, it's up to you to get him quickly (but not suddenly) to a newspaper or outside.

There is no point and no results can be achieved by any form of punishment for accidents--if he didn't make it to the designated spot, the fault lies with YOU.

DISCIPLINE

It's pretty hard to find fault with natural curiosity or loneliness. If the puppy has a few toys of his own, such as knotted socks, a hard rubber ball and some centers from paper towel rolls, he'll be less likely to chew the corner off the kitchen cabinet.

The really important discipline at this age is to nip any "people-biting" in the bud. If teething is his problem, he'll try to chew on your fingers; make sure that he doesn't bear down. If he does, a short rap on the nose is a good way of letting him know that's not acceptable. Avoid having children do any disciplining, as they are sometimes overzealous in their efforts.

HAPPINESS IS A PUPPY

Make life for the puppy as congenial as possible and he will reciprocate. Try to base your actions on common sense; give him lots of love and when he's 16 years old, the knawed-off corner of the Chippendale chair will hardly be noticable.

P G and E gives advice on coping with power failure

As long as storms blow tree limbs into overhead lines, trenchers cut underground cables, cars hit poles and hunters take pot shots at line insulators, there will be power failures notes L. W. Kingsbury, district manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

If your lights fail and the "Tube" goes dark, PG&E suggests practical steps to take while it gets the power back on.

—If your power goes out, check your neighbors' homes to see if their lights are out too. If not, it may be your own fuse, circuit breaker or service line to your home only.

—Let PG&E know if you hear a loud sound or see a flash outside and whether the whole neighborhood is affected. It will help the company locate the trouble and restore service faster.

—Switch off major appliances like ranges or heaters and the TV set, but leave a radio or lights on so you'll know when service is restored. If lights stay dim or continue flickering, unplug motor-driven appliances.

—When it's cold, keep the drapes closed and avoid opening doors unnecessarily if your furnace has an electric blower. The temperature in a fairly well insulated home will drop only about one degree per hour if cold air is kept out. If the fireplace isn't used, close the damper.

—Keep doors closed on the refrigerator and freezer. Frozen food will not thaw for at least 24 hours, if the freezer door remains closed most of the time. In an evaporative freezer, food will begin thawing in about six hours.

—Customers can help the company by reporting the addition of new air conditioning units, and other major electrical equipment with large loads.

—Another help is permission from property owners for PG&E to trim tree limbs close to power lines and to spray some trees and shrubs with a harmless growth retardant solution.

engineer, in answer to whether there would be traffic problems, said that no matter what went on the property more traffic would result. He said that the difference in traffic conditions between the various types of developments would not be significant.

In a letter presented to City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan, Bob Brydon, of 1140 W. Latimer, a life-time resident of Campbell, stated that he felt that the proposed plan was a high quality development, in his opinion.

Mrs. C. B. Hartman, of 186 Radford, also by letter, indicated that she favored the site plan. In another letter, Steve Owens, of 161 Virginia, opposed the plan on the basis that there were too many multiples, in Campbell, "the Orchard City" now.

HEARING OPENS

The public hearing was officially opened at 8:45 p.m. with Mike Engdol, president of Dura Style Homes, defending the site plan as a proper development for the parcel and emphasizing that it was not economically feasible to build single-family dwellings on the parcel.

Supplementing Engdol's case, were Hal Joseph, a planning consultant, and Norm Burdick, architect.

The Dura Style Home people emphasized that many people today do not want the encumbrances of maintenance and that the town house concept allows for that factor by having a maintenance agreement.

Speaking for the plan were Herman Lansford, 373 W. Rincon, and Dick Unger, 260 Morrene Drive. Both maintained that it was an attractive development and would be an asset to the community.

Among the opponents trooping to the mike to express their opposition to the proposal were Mrs. Paula Mauldin, 105 Amato; Norm Bartel, 739 Latimer; Ken Dorf, 837 Springfield; Frank Klein, 172 Branbury; John Douthit, 156 Branbury; Bill Robinson, 919 Hedegard; Mrs. Raymond Barton, 926 Hedegard, and Mrs. Constance Howell, 1261 Lorelei Court.

When the hearing was closed, each of the five councilmen again expressed their viewpoints on the issue with Podgorsek and Rogers emphasizing that the city's general plan was merely a guideline.

Chamberlin, Doetsch and Smeed argued that the proposal did follow the general plan to a large extent and that it was a far better development, in their opinion, than some that could go on the property.

The drama for the evening's performance reached a high peak when Chamberlin moved that the plan be approved and Mayor Ralph Doetsch had to relinquish the gavel to Vice-Mayor Podgorsek in order to second the motion.

Thus it was Podgorsek who handled the gavel when the climax came at 12:45 a.m. on the showdown vote.

Campbell P T A presents films

Campbell High School P.T.A. will offer a vocational film entitled "The Bridge" at the school cafeteria on Wednesday, January 19 at 7:30 p.m.

The film, made by the department of education in Los Angeles, is designed for parents and teachers on vocation education, and is part of a "road show" advocated by the school district office.

Following the film a bake sale will be conducted.

Campbell High School P.T.A. activities will include an honorary service award presentation at their February 16 meeting and election of officers at their March 15 meeting.

In April, the P.T.A. will cooperate in opening the school during Public Schools Week, April 24 to 28, according to Mrs. Ed Pack, P.T.A. president.

Robinson fund goes over $1500

Funds for Jeanie Robinson continue to grow at Wells Fargo Bank, according to bank officials contacted on Tuesday. $1587 has been deposited to the account in her name, including a single $100 donation.

"Jeanie" who suffered severe burns in a home fire which took the lives of her husband and three sons, has been confined to Los Gatos Community Hospital since the fire and has begun undergoing skin grafts.

Mrs. Leland Blalock, next-door-neighbor of the Robinsons, is giving a home product party Saturday to benefit "Jeanie". "Jeanie" and her husband were agents for the home products company and friends and co-workers are planning to build up her distributorship so that she will have this as personal income when she is released from the hospital. Meantime, proceeds from sales are being deposited to her medical fund.

Contributors may make deposits at any Wells Fargo Bank who will, in turn, deposit them to the Campbell office.

UCSC STUDENTS

Carolyn Louise Guist, a freshman mathematics major, Kenneth Eric Jensen, a junior philosophy major and Michelle K. McNernoy a junior psychology major, are among the 1,570 young people studying for the first time this fall in the redwood environment of UCSC, the University of California at Santa Cruz.

Aquatics team holds event

Saturday, January 15, swimmers from West Valley Aquatics Team will hold a "Swim-a-Thon" at Campbell High School pool.

The event is being used by U.S. Swimmers to build and endow their own Hall of Fame in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, and raise money for the team travel fund.

Seventy per cent of funds collected go to West Valley Aquatics Team, 20% to furnish and endow a world swimming library and museum at the Hall of Fame, 5% to International Swimming travel fund and 5% to Pacific A.A.U.

Swimmers are limited to 200 laps of 25-yard pool (one mile is 70 laps) or two hours, whichever comes first.

The public is invited, without charge, to view these swimmers during hours of 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. - 13 year olds and up will be in the water from 8 to 10; 8 and unders, 10 to noon; 9 and 10 year olds, noon to 2 and the 11 and 12 year old swimmers will finish the event from 2 to 4 p.m.

Coaches of West Valley Aquatics Team will be glad to explain the swim program to interested swimmers or parents of swimmers. Anyone interested in becoming a member of an active swim club may inquire at this event.

Unvented heater is a hazard

With winter already here, George Maxwell, Campbell Fire Chief, advises residents that an annual inspection of gas space heaters is recommended, both for safety and economic reasons.

"All heaters should be inspected at least once a year... to insure both economical and efficient operation," he said.

Special precaution should be taken with old heaters designed for unvented use. Even when in good condition they must not be operated in poorly ventilated rooms. A window should always be left open when such heaters are in use.

The improper use of unvented heaters can cause serious illness, warns Chief Maxwell. A furnace service company should be called in case of question about the safety of a heater.

According to Maxwell, the sale of unvented heaters after January 1, 1972, except for approved decorative gas logs in vented fireplaces, will be banned in California

Collection of old cars in Reno rates as top display

The next time you are in Reno, Nevada, take time to visit Harrah's Automobile Collection. It is one of the finest displays of antique, vintage and classic automobiles in the country, if not the world.

At present there are over 1,400 cars in the collection ranging from such rare, early-day models as a 1902 Darracq and a 1903 Ford to the sleek classic cars of the 1930's, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Adult visitors to the collection will find dozens of cars that evoke fond memories of childhood days. Such dignified marques built in the 1920's and '30's as Marmon, Hupmobile, Flint, Franklin, Hudson, Reo, as well as dozens of early Fords, Chevrolets, Cadillacs and Dodges all represent the colorful and amazing growth of the automobile which has taken place in this century.

Although many car buffs have seen pictures of the famous cars of a bygone era, it is quite another thing to stand alongside the real McCoy and "feel" the personality and character of these archetypes of modern America's transportation system.

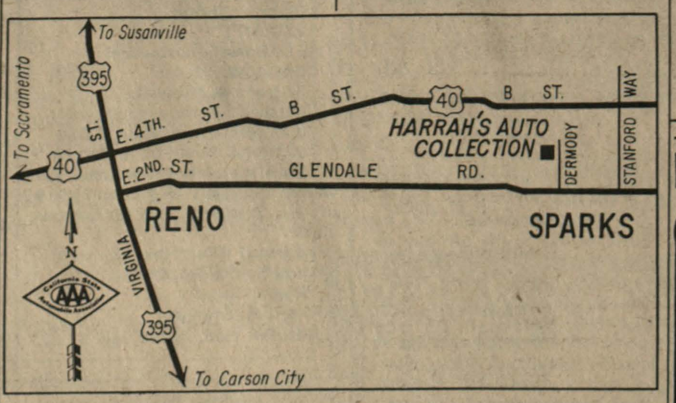
Some of the vintage 1910-15 horseless carriages with their huge wooden-spoked wheels and round brass headlamps, cars that have an overall height of over seven feet, are an awesome sight.

The main display building at Harrah's Automobile Collection will capture your interest for at least an hour but don't stop there. Nearby are the shops where the many phases of restoration work are done on the cars before they are put on display.

Every last detail of every car is carefully, even painstakingly, attended to. Authenticity is a religion at the Collection. When careful research has revealed that a Peable grain leather used in the upholstery of one of the cars is available only from England, it is ordered from England, even if a close facsimile is available right there in Reno.

No matter how uneducated the visitor may be in things automotive, he will be impressed by the sheer craftsmanship and luxury of some of the early limousines. Peering into the rear passenger compartment of a 1920 Pierce-Arrow is like looking into the reception room of an elegant Victorian mansion. And the rakish fender lines of the Auburn Speedster, its aircraft-type instrument panel and incredibly long hood, all identify easily with the flamboyant twenties.

Harrah's Automobile Collection all began back in 1948 when Bill Harrah acquired a 1911 Maxwell and a 1911 Ford and then soon added a 1906 Ford and 1902 Curved-Dash Oldsmobile. His honest interest in the old cars soon forced him to abandon the four-car garage in Reno and in 1961 he moved the entire collection to its present location in Sparks, three and a half miles east of downtown Reno.



Moreland holds tax election

Voters must register by Thursday, Jan. 20 to be eligible for the Moreland School District's tax override election. On Tuesday, March 14, voters will be asked if they approve a $2.75 tax rate for a five year period beginning July 1, 1972.

The district currently has a general purpose tax rate of $2.64 which will revert to $2.10 on March 14 unless the proposed tax rate is approved.

School secretaries will register eligible voters at all district schools and the district administrative office. Election precincts will be established at each of the 14 elementary schools in the district.

Filmmakers flex their talents

Young filmmakers, age six to 18, will flex their video talent in a contest sponsored by the Peninsula Adult-Youth Film Council. Entry deadline is midnight, Saturday, Feb. 5. Cash prizes and awards will be presented at the Film Festival on Saturday, February 26 at 1 p.m. in the Campbell High Auditorium.

Any student enrolled in an elementary, junior high or high school within the Santa Clara County may enter films in any of the three categories, "Animation", "Live Action" and "Other." The two divisions of entry are Junior (six to 13) and Senior (14 to 18).

Contest winners will be announced on a feature television program of KTEH-TV, Channel 54, and winning films will be sent to the National Educational Television Film Contest.

Specific information and entry forms are available from Mary Jane Moore, festival and contest director, 814 Inwood Dr., Campbell, CA 95008, or phone 379-6413.

NAVAL TRAINING

Navy Fireman Apprentice Martin D. Garner of 700 W. Valley Dr., Campbell, has graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

He attended West Valley College.

Moreland teachers plan full day of workshops

Students in the Moreland School District will take a holiday on Friday, Jan. 28 as their teachers and administrators participate in a full day of in-service activities and programs.

Topics for the teachers' day of learning include Classroom Interaction, Clay Workshop, Creativity Project, Education Film Faire, Geography: Making It Real!, Human Relations, Interpretation of Tests, Student Film Making, and Video Tape Presentations.

Gerrye Wong, Payne teacher, will present slides and a puppet show on Chinese culture; and Ruth Dromensk, Amber Drive teacher, and Marge Weiner, Latimer teacher, will explore the subject of teaching the learning disabled child.

A practical approach to the development and operation of learning centers will be explored by Joan Carter, Coventry teacher; Marlene Carrington, Sally Dubbin, Lee Oates and Elsie Sullivan, teachers at Latimer; and Katie Boivin, Sally Jacker, Jerrie Mildon and Elizabeth Snider from Brookview School.

A film and slides of a "Lind Climber," a new kind of gymnastic apparatus, will be shown by Sharon Hitchings, Janice Meils and Maria Turner from Country Lane School. Keith Gray, former Brookview teacher, will present "Sounds Of Language." John Ediger and Nina Kirulenko, district teacher, will present "Sounds Of Language." John Ediger and Nina Kirulenko, district psychologists, will meet with Special Education teachers.

Virginia Luhring and Betty Westley of Anderson School will lead a talk on team teaching; Bob Geddes, Easterbrook teacher, will demonstrate 3-D Art; and slides and tapes of reading activities will be shown by Martha Bricker and Ruby Hamilton, Bucknall teachers.

Dick Williamson, Country Lane teacher chose "Turning On In Math" as his topic.

Helen Smith, school nurse, will present "VD - A New Factor In Education" and a specialist will review medical and educational concerns in this area.

During the afternoon, staffs will plan activities related to their school program, review science materials displayed at Amber Drive School or participate in an instructional materials workshop at Coventry School.

SJCMT auditions for tour groups

The San Jose Children's Musical Theater (SJCMT) will hold auditions on Saturday, Jan. 15 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the St. Frances Cabrini Hall on Camden Ave.

Auditions are for placement in the SJCMT touring companies, the "Finales" (6-12 years), the "Melodears" (all girls from 10-15 years), the "Reprises" (10-15 years), and the award winning "Entr'-Actes" (12-20 years).

The auditions will also complete the cast for the SJCMT production of "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," the new musical based on the comic strip "Peanuts". All of the six character roles are still open. This production will be cast in the 8-18 age group, and will be presented in late February and March. All four touring companies and "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" will be directed by SJCMT executive director, John P. Healy, Jr.

The SJCMT idea of bringing good children's musical theater to the community in a wholesome and happy atmosphere is exemplified by the current production of "Oliver!", with a cast and crew of over 200 young musical theater enthusiasts, ranging from 5-20 years of age.

The show is accompanied by the SJCMT Show Orchestra, comprised of 24 local musicians from every walk of life. "Oliver!" will open on Saturday, Jan. 29 at 8 p.m. in the St. Frances Cabrini Hall, Ticket price is $1.50, adults, and $1 under age 13. Repeat performances will be Sunday, Jan. 30, Feb. 5, 6, 10 and 12.

For further information about the touring companies, "Charlie Brown", or reservations for "Oliver!" call the SJCMT office at 265-1490.

Y's Travelers schedule trips

A Liberace show at Circle Star Theater on February 24 has been added to the winter itinerary of the Y's Travelers, San Jose YWCA sponsored travel group for men and women.

It will be a matinee show, followed by dinner at Sir George's Royal Buffet in Redwood City. Reservations are being taken at the YW, 210 South Second Street, San Jose, phone 292-1075.

Other Y's Travelers' activities planned in the near future are a trip to Lake Havasu, including breakfast at Apple Valley Inn and a Las Vegas dinner show, February 19-23; an Ojai-Solvang jaunt in March; a mission and church tour in April; and a Los Angeles excursion in May.

College offers laser course

Three non-credit, non-graded electronics courses taught by specialists at IBM, Lockheed and NASA, will begin soon at West Valley College.

"The Laser--What is it? How do you use it?", taught by Jack Hughes, laser specialist in the materials laboratory at IBM, San Jose will be held each Tuesday evening from 7 to 10 p.m., Jan. 25 through April 18.

"Digital Computer Fundamentals" will be taught by John L. Rankin, training specialist at Lockheed, Sunnyvale. The class will be held on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m., Jan. 26 through April 26.

Ronald J. Hruby, aerospace technologist and development engineer at Ames Research Center, NASA, will teach "Fundamentals of Microcircuit Fabrication." This class will be held on Monday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m., Feb. through June 5.

Registration and a small fee required for all classes will be done on a first-come, first-served basis at Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26, telephone 379-1733, ext. 58.

Club program is dish gardens

The Country Woman's Club of Campbell will learn how a dish garden is made when they meet in their clubhouse, 274 E. Campbell Ave., on Monday, Jan. 17 at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Emma Barham, club member, will demonstrate making succulent arrangements in tea cups. Mrs. Barham is also a member of Blossom Valley Garden Club, who has made many such arrangements which have been distributed to hospitals and rest homes.

Chairman for the day is Mrs. Elmer Hoerler, assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Messinger, Mrs. W. H. Scott, Mrs. John Perata, Mrs. Felix Bersano and Mrs. Thelma Wathen.

A business meeting will precede the program.

Rebekahs have installations

Incoming officers of Ada Rebekah Lodge 223 of Campbell wore formals of pink and blue and carried bouquets of gladiolas at the installation ceremony performed recently by members of the Mountain View Rebekahs.

Mrs. Vi Pierce was installed as noble grand and Mrs. Lucien Roux as vice-grand. Mrs. Verna Duelly, deputy of District 24, and her staff officiated.

During January Mrs. Ora Lowe, deputy president of District 3 of Ada Rebekah Lodge 223, will install the officers for nine Rebekah Lodges in her district with the help of her staff.

Volunteers seek CP donations

More than 12,000 volunteers will call upon residents in Santa Clara County beginning Friday, Jan. 14 and continuing through Jan. 19, in a concerted effort to raise $75,000 to support services for cerebral palsy victims.

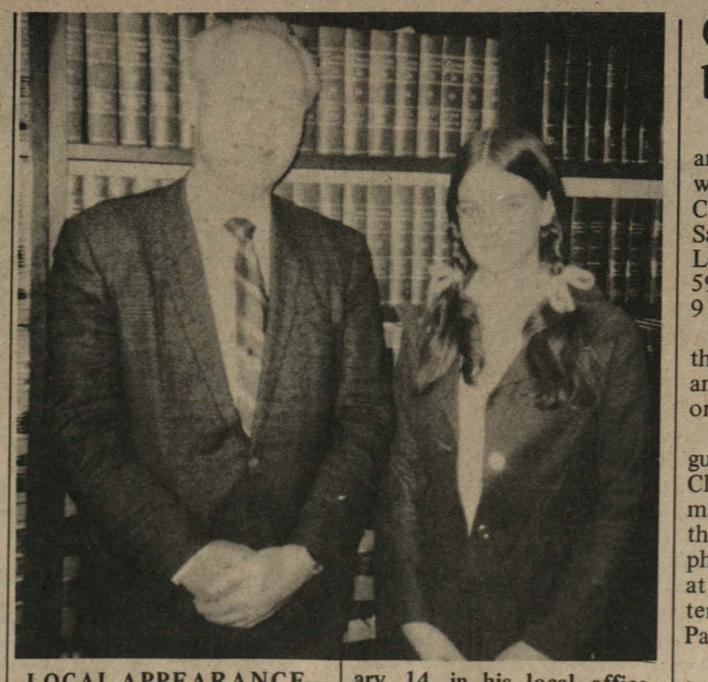
The residential drive is the backbone of the 12-week fund raising campaign of the United Cerebral Palsy Association (UCPA) of Santa Clara County, according to Elmo Killgore, 1972 campaign chairman.

Developmental Day Care Centers for multi-handicapped children up to three years of age are among the organizations dependent on UCPA contributions.

Seventy-five per cent of the donations support the local program in each community while 25 per cent funds national research into the causes and prevention of cerebral palsy.

Since its inception in 1955 the UCPA has spent more than $11 million in nationwide research and medical training facilities.

AIR BUBBLE—West Valley College architectural students and Douglas A. Fenolio, instructor (third from left) display the drawing of an air supported "bubble" structure they designed and constructed for use in an open house sponsored by the engineering technology division on Thursday, Jan. 13 from noon to 10 p.m. and on Friday, Jan. 14 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Local residents are invited to view the 1,500 square foot polyurethene plastic structure which will house booths and personnel on the front lawn of the engineering-technology building, Saratoga campus.



LOCAL APPEARANCE---Senator Clark Bradley accepts the invitation of Pam Mestice to address an eighth grade assembly at Campbell Elementary School on Friday, January 14, in his local office. Pam invited Bradley as an extra project in her social studies class, taught by Larry Lundgren.

Chorus seeks boy singers

Vocal lads between age 8 and 18 are invited to the winter auditions of the Santa Clara Valley Boys' Chorus on Saturday, January 15, at Leonard Herman School, 5955 Blossom Ave. between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The Boys' Chorus, under the direction of Ken Seylar and Bill Slocum, is in its second year.

Recently the boys were guest artists with the Santa Clara Chorale for their Christmas Concert; appeared with the Los Gatos-Saratoga Symphony Orchestra; sang carols at several large shopping centers, and performed at the new Park Center Plaza.

Chorus rehearsals are held every Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 until 9 p.m. at Leonard Herman School.

For information about the chorus or the auditions, phone 225-6832 or 377-2592.

Trustees refuse Canteen subsidy

In a special meeting last week, West Valley College District trustees refused to subsidize the food service operation of Canteen Corp. in the campus center at Saratoga.

Canteen Corp. now has the option of continuing the food service operation at a loss or exercising its 90-day notice of termination of service.

Canteen Corp. had asked for amendments to its original contract with the college, asking for a subsidy of $14,500 from the college through August 1, 1972, since the projected volume of sales has not materialized.

The college and the company originally contracted to share 50-50 any losses or profits and Canteen had originally predicted a $2,000 loss for both the college and itself, but losses have been greater thus far.

The Associated Student Body agreed to subsidize the Canteen with student union profits and student union fees, but trustees did not agree.

If Canteen does exercise its 90-day option, the college will start receiving other proposals from companies for operation of the scramble line and snack bar facilities.

In other action Tuesday cepted the resignations of afternoon the trustees accepted the resignations of Robert Ton, building inspector, and Mrs. Barbara Toothman, typist clerk in community services.

Exhibits focus on health

Applications are now being accepted for exhibits in the 1972 Health Fair to be sponsored by the Santa Clara County Medical Society and Woman's Auxiliary, according to Mrs. Donald A. Peck of Saratoga, chairman.

Purpose of the event, will be to expose young people to careers in the health professions, so each exhibit must relate to careers in health.

The 1972 Health Fair is scheduled for April 15 and 16 at De Anza College, Cupertino. Health agencies, professional groups and others who wish to exhibit should contact Mrs. Harold Novotny, exhibits chairman, 525 Jackson Dr., Palo Alto 94303.

Champion dogs compete in show

Over 2,500 purebred dogs are entered in the 62nd annual Golden Gate Kennel Club Dog Show, scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 29-30, at the Cow Palace.

Entries were limited to winners of blue ribbons in an American Kennel Club show. It is estimated that 1/3rd of the entries are already champions, while many more are near champions.

Variety groups' judging is scheduled for Sunday at 4 p.m., to be followed by best-dog-in-show.

Engagement news from France

The engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Harville, to Lieutenant Daniel Braga has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Harville of Campbell.

The announcement was made during the Christmas holiday at the Harville home and also in Chalons sur Marne, France, where the future bride teaches English at a local high school.

Kathy is a graduate of San Jose State College where she was affiliated with the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi. She completed her graduate work at Rennes University in France.

Daniel is the son of Monsieur and Madame Roland Braga of Lunéville, France, and received his commission upon graduation from the Saint Cyr Military Academy. At present he is attending artillery school in Chalons sur Marne.

Their tentative plans are for a wedding in Campbell during the summer.

PTA offers cultural films at Westmont

A series of films on the Mexican-American heritage are being presented at Westmont High School by the Rolling Hills P.T.A. Parent Education Committee.

The films were originally made for teachers by the California State Department of Education. The first two films will be presented Monday, Jan. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the library at Westmont High School. The second two will be shown the following Monday, Jan. 24.

There is no admission charge for the films and discussion and refreshments will follow the showing.

For additional information, contact Doris St. Germaine, 378-7667 or Vickie Candelaria, 378-9234.

EASTERN STAR

Campbell Chapter 553, Order of Eastern Star, will meet Friday, Jan. 14 at 8 p.m. in the Odd Fellows Hall, 276 E. Campbell Ave.

Mrs. Clark Fitch, worthy matron and Vince Volkey, worthy patron, are presiding in the Renewal of Obligation.

BIKE CHECK

Rosemary Home and School Club is sponsoring a bike registration day on Saturday, Jan. 15 from 10 a.m. to noon.

The bike safety check and registration will be conducted by the Campbell Police Department, who will also show a safety film during school time of the previous week. A five-year bike license may be acquired for $1.

Rally held at local church

The First United Methodist Church hosted the first annual "Celebration of Faith", a rally of local United Methodist Churches last Sunday at the 7 p.m . service.

All United Methodist Churches of the San Jose District participated in the evangelism rally at the church, 1675 Winchester Blvd.

Dr. "Bud" Roberts of Calvary Methodist Church led the congregation in song. Dr. Arthur Schuck was among the participants, along with Dr. Roy Dunn of Good Samaritan Church in Cupertino, who was in charge of the meeting.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. George H. Outen, associate general secretary of evangelism of the United Methodist Church who has come to the west coast to attend the Conference on Evangelism in San Francisco.

Special music was provided by the Campbell church choir and the Good Sam Singers from Cupertino.

Guest speaker at the 10:30 a.m. worship service was Donald Harvey Tippett, retired bishop and long-time friend of the local church. The former bishop spoke on the theme "Church Challenged Today."

Germs sabotage holiday trip

Pesty microscopic creatures sabotaged months of plans and expectations for the minister of the Campbell Congregational Church and his family.

Reverend Anthony Wayne Myers and his family planned a Christmas vacation visiting his wife's mother and other relatives in Hamburg, Germany.

The family's dreams of a European trek made a sudden crash landing when their 12-year-old son, Peter became ill on Dec. 20, the eve of the anticipated cross-continental flight.

The Myers family had their hands full during their stay-at-home-vacation caring for Peter and his sister, Kathy, who fell ill with a "strep" infection after Peter recuperated.

Community Players opening please with "Sunday" comedy

by Sally Howe

"Sunday In New York" a light-hearted comedy by Norman Krasna was presented by the Community Players of Los Gatos-Saratoga at Saratoga Civic Center Friday and Saturday nights and will be repeated Jan. 14, 15, 21 and 22.

The opening night performance, although not playing to a capacity audience, was well-received and rightly so.

The cast only numbered six, and two of these were "unidentified" characters, (Arnold Pellemeier and Susanne Sylvia), who pranced in and out of several scenes, set in a movie, a Japanese restaurant, and a bus.

The leads, Kent Seegmiller and Debbie Jones, knew their parts well and convinced the audience that they were not "acting" but merely dramatizing their lives on-stage.

Gary Ferry, as Adam Taylor, may have been somewhat influenced by Walter Matthau, but that certainly did not hurt the play.

The only part in question was that of Russ Wilson, played by Andy Moore, and I am uncertain if the part could have been portrayed with much believability.

The staging for the play deserves comment. A bright blue and white "apartment" was transformed into a bus, a restaurant, a car, and a movie theater, simply by a quick rearrangement and some lighting effects.

Directing the light fare was Robert Griswold, with Fred Lueck producing and Don Loughridge as stage manager. Carl Recktenwalk was in charge of the sets.

For some good laughs and a change of scene, "Sunday In New York" is worth an evening's attention.

MAEP has childbirth training

Expectant mothers in their first 15 weeks of pregnancy can now enroll in a new "Early Bird" class meeting for five weeks starting Tuesday, Jan. 11 at 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Markham Center, 2105 Cottle Ave., San Jose.

Information on nutrition, fetal development, relaxation, posture, and a preview of labor and delivery will be presented.

Other related classes available in the Metropolitan Adult Education Program include Education for Childbirth, Lamaze and Couples classes. Expectant mothers should ask their doctor for a schedule or pick one up at their nearest adult education center or branch library. For further information, call 292-2737.

VIKING GALLERY

The public is invited to a display of faculty and student sculpture in West Valley College's Viking Art Gallery, at the Campbell campus, 51 E. Campbell Ave.

Hours for the art show, which runs until Friday, Jan. 28 are from 11:30 to 12:30 p.m. each weekday and 6:30 ot 8:30 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Campbell Artist's Guild

The Campbell Artist's Guild is looking forward to having as their guest speaker and demonstrator Lillian Wilson on Wednesday, Jan. 19. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Country Woman's Club, Campbell Ave. and First Streets in Campbell.

Lillian Wilson is an active local artist and has exhibited at Villa Montalvo, San Jose Art Association and won awards at Valley Fair, Uptown Gallery and Annual Mother Lode Art exhibit in Sonora, as well as many other local shows. She is a member of San Jose Art League, Saratoga Contempory Artists and Artist's Guild of Santa Clara.

She paints in oils, acrylics, mixed media and collages but prefers silk screen.

Members of the Guild are preparing for the annual officers show which will be held at the Saratoga Gallery, Big Basin Way, Saratoga, February, March and April 1972.

Interested artists and the public are invited to attend.

Church to hold group training

Classes in communication skills will begin again in January at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Saratoga.

Students learn practical tools to help them dissolve barriers between family members and foster acceptance of themselves and others.

Sue Cole, instructor, is a licensed marriage, family and child counselor.

One group will meet for eight Thursday mornings, 9:15 to 12:15, beginning Jan. 13. The other class will meet for six Tuesday evenings, 7:30 to 10:30, beginning Jan. 18. A fee is charged. For further information phone 867-3493 or 225-5113.

ROTARY CLUB

Last Monday, January 10, members of the Rotary Club of Campbell met at the Bodega Restaurant.

The club dined at 7 p.m. after assembling at 6:30 p.m. to discuss the accomplishments of the past year, and obtain guidance from each other for projects in 1972.

Nancy is engaged

NANCY DALY

A family holiday dinner at their home was the occasion chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Daly, 831 Century Dr., to announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy, to Frank Sherlock of San Jose.

Nancy, who is employed by K Mart in Cupertino, is a graduate of Campbell High School and attended West Valley College.

Her finance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sherlock of San Jose. He attended Willow Glen High School, San Jose City College, and is presently enrolled at San Jose State College. He is employed at World Faire Restaurant at Eastridge.

A summer wedding is planned.

Del Mar diners eat spaghetti

Spaghetti will raise funds for Del Mar High's PTA projects as diners converge on Del Mar's cafetorium on Wednesday night, Jan. 19 from 6 to 7:30 p.m. Tickets may be obtained for $1.50, adults, and $1 for children under 13 at the school office or at the door.

"The dinner includes a salad, bread, cake and beverage in addition to the spaghetti-and-meat main course," said Mrs. Pat Brooks, PTA president.

"Homemade cakes and pies are the feature of the dessert," says Mrs. Jean Landreth, chairwoman for the event.

Some of the PTA's projects include scholarships, a yearbook and new draperies for the cafetorium.

Letters to the Editor

JEANIE ROBINSON FUND

Dear Editor,

We want to be of some help in raising money for Jeanie, who is surviving burns over 40% of her body from the fire that struck their home in Campbell in December, taking the lives of her husband and all three children.

We would like to donate our time, energies, and retail profit to the "Jeanie Robinson Fund" by means of holding home-care product parties in the homes of any concerned individuals wishing to participate in raising funds for Jeanie.

We feel that this is a method by which many people could contribute who otherwise could not. By the host and hostess and their guests purchasing their necessities that they would otherwise be buying from the market, they would be contributing the retail profit to this worthwhile fund.

We are in business for ourselves, and have over 160 products in our line. These products include laundry, home-cleaning, personal care products, and gift items, all carrying a 100% money-back guarantee if for ANY reason anyone is dissatisfied with any of the products.

Anyone wishing to make a donation to the "Jeanie Robinson Fund" by offering their home, and inviting their guests for this purpose would surely be appreciated. We would sincerely welcome their call to set the date.

Thanking you for your interest and concern.

FOR PEACE

Myron L. Fairchild, former mayor of Campbell and Moderator of the Congregational Church of Campbell, is beginning a movement to encourage congregations throughout America to make 1972 a "Peace Year." Beginning here in Campbell, Fairchild is asking churches to have their people pray corporately each week for peace. The Congregational Church of Campbell had his letter read in worship recently and responded by using Fairchild's prayer during worship. A corporate prayer will be offered weekly during the year for peace. It is hoped that other Campbell congregations will do something similar, according to their own customs and traditions.

Anthony Wayne Myers, Congregational Church

1972--PEACE YEAR

Dear Editor,

I have a suggestion which I believe is in tune with the time we are living in, very greatly needed, easily inaugurated, requires no committees, no boards, is free of political implications, and yet which can possibly have an exceedingly wide-spread beneficial effect upon our individual lives, our community, our State, our Nation, the World.

I suggest that we, the people of the United States, individually and collectively designate and proclaim the year 1972 as Peace Year.

But we must not stop there---I suggest that Peace Year be activated by every congregation which professes a belief in God, setting aside a brief time during each service in every week of this year to offer, in unison, a prayer for peace in the world.

Knowing that "Peace on Earth, Good will toward men" cannot be a reality unless and until it is established in the hearts and minds of men as individuals, I also suggest that each of us, in his own words and his own way, at some time in each day of this Peace Year, pray for peace, not only for Peace in the World but for Peace and Goodwill in his own heart, in his own home, his own community, State, Nation and the World, and for the courage and strength to so live each day.

What a tremendous contribution each of us can make toward the elimination of war and strife, killing and pillage, hatred and revenge, whether by armies in the field or individuals on our streets.

Let your mind contemplate the closing days of this year and you will begin to feel the satisfaction that will then be yours.

Such is the power of prayer--

Our Father who art in Heaven,

We pray to Thee for Peace--

We know that You have the power to bring

Peace to the World--

But we know also that such a Peace could not be acceptable to You for it would not be a lasting peace--

So we ask You today to augment our strength, our courage, and our faith, that we may bring about in our own hearts the peace and goodwill toward others that can become a part of the fabric of the Universal Peace we week and hope for.

THE MARCH OF DIMES

COIN COLLECTOR -- The March of Dimes coin collectors like the one held by Bob Telleson of Campbell (left) and Mario Lacavalla of Gilroy will be displayed in the area through January, collecting funds for The March of Dimes to fight birth defects. Telleson has been responsible for distributing the collectors to Campbell retail establishments and restaurants.

AIRMAN RECEIVES MEDAL---Airman First Class Thomas H. Little was recently awarded with the Air Force Commendation Medal in ceremonies at Edwards Air Force Base. The Campbell High graduate was honored for the "outstanding professional skill and initiative" that he demonstrated last year as a reciprocating engine mechanic at the Nakhon Phanom Royal Thai Air Force Base, Thailand. According to the citation accompanying his award, Airman Little "Played a significant role in contributing to the success of the United States Air Force mission in Southeast Asia." The term of service for Little, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hoy L. Little, and the brother of Janet, a senior at Campbell High, expires in 1973.

SJS spring registration covers four-day period

Registration for the spring semester at San Jose State College will begin Monday, Jan. 31, and will continue for four full days instead of the customary two and a half days.

Registration will begin at noon Monday, Jan. 31, and will continue until noon Friday, Feb. 4.

Seniors will pick up registration packets and register on Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning; graduate students, Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning; juniors Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning; sophomores and freshmen, Thursday afternoon and Friday morning.

Students will pick up packets in the library and register in the gym area according to the first letter of their last name.

An innovation to be introduced this spring is a packet of pre-punched cards containing a student's name, major, class and other information. As a student registers for a particular course, he will turn in one card for each class he selects.

Two purposes will be served by the procedure, according to Dr. Ted W. Benedict, SJSC dean of academic planning. One will be the formation of a class roster and a control of over-enrollment. Another purpose will be to identify students who have signed up for more than the maximum limit of units, Benedict said.

SJSC is scheduled to exchange its present computer for a different one late next summer.

PARTY AT BLIND CENTER --Norman Townsend and his daughter, Missy, met Santa, (Richard Hann) during a Christmas aprty given by the West Valley Federated Women's Club at the Santa Clara County Blind Center. Nearly 90 children and parents attended the party, which also featured a puppet show by Ann Sudyka, cookies baked by the Campbell 4-H Club and candy canes distributed by Santa with the help of Mrs. Donald Williams, president of the West Valley Women's Club. The West Valley Federated Women's Club, which sponsored the party, assists the blind center each Tuesday with a "Story Hour" on cassette tapes for children that are blind or disabled.

Beth Morgan crafts flowers

Beth Morgan demonstrated methods for crafting paper silk flowers to the Campbell Garden Club at their first meeting of the new year this morning at 10 a.m.

Mrs. John Jackson hosted the meeting in her home, 2934 Vivian Ln., San Jose, with the help of Mrs. Pedro Kuri and Mrs. B. L. Roberts, also on the hospitality committee.

For additional information contact the membership chairman at 295-4587.

SCIENCE FAIR

SCIENCE FAIR---Urging all students in grades six through senior high to register for the 1972 Santa Clara Valley Science Fair are newly elected officers Dr. Oreon Keeslar of Santa Clara County Schools, communicating secretary; S.N. Stein, M.D., president; and Campbell resident Merle D. Courson, vice-president of the First National Bank of San Jose, who is treasurer. Posters contain complete data on the 1972 Fair and have been sent to all schools. Deadline date for fair entries is Feb. 15. Information may be obtained from Fair Manager Lil Severin at 252-0992.

VIOLET SOCIETY

The public is invited to the regular monthly meeting of the African Violet Society of South Bay on Tuesday, Jan. 18 at 1 p.m. in the Community Room of the Palo Alto-Salinas Savings, 10250 Saratoga-Sunnyvale Rd., Cupertino.

Mrs. Celine Chase was invited by Mrs. Richard Hundley, program chairman to speak about miniature African Violets.

Youth compete in Science Fair

Ecology is the theme of the 12th annual Santa Clara Valley Science Fair, which will judge and display the work of young science enthusiasts from grades six through 12 at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds in March.

In previous years the Valley Science Fair has sent two students and their teachers to international competition, besides awarding prizes and honors to hundreds of other youngsters.

Dr. Norman Shumway, famed heart transplant surgeon, and "Buzz" Aldrin, Apollo astronaut, have been recent headliners at award ceremonies.

According to Dr. S.N. Stein, president of the Santa Clara Valley Science Fair, the fair activities are faced with a critical deficit since last year's fund raising netted less than half the needed amount.

Contributions for support of the 1972 Valley Science Fair are tax-deductible and may be mailed to Treasurer Merle D. Courson, First National Bank of San Jose, P.O. Box 1000, San Jose 95108.
